HOME - Historic Origins of Modern Era

Crucial goal of this project is to create an International network amongst students, teachers and participating schools to spark changes towards a more modern and internationalized school education improving school staffs' skills and reinforce the quality of teaching and learning. The basic idea of this strategic partnership starts from the real need to protect and appreciate our cultural heritage through the responsibility and awareness in the use of modern technologies and devices. At the moment, our students are completely absorbed by their devices such as smartphones, tablets, laptop without valuing our beautiful and historic surroundings which represent our cultural identity, obviously different from country to country but part of a unique and special community: EUROPE.

Czech Republic, Spain, Portugal, Poland and Italy, the five European countries/teams involved in this Erasmus+ project, intend to modernize the teaching methods in their own schools as well as improve teachers and students linguistic and digital literacy, making use of more innovative and modern methodologies and approaches in the process of learning/teaching in which each student is the main and active character to re-discover his/her origins and cultural identity and promote European Cultural Heritage.

Schools in HOME

Project's outcomes

Teachers and students could share their outcomes on cultural heritage about the countries involved in the project and exchange good practices developing them firstly at local level and after at European one. Students through the use of ICT and the different tools that will be used for communication will improve their competence in foreign languages and will build their social cooperation as both European citizens and above all citizens of the world. Citizenship becomes, therefore with Erasmus+ a real and powerful experience. Erasmus+ project HOME would like our students to become more inquisitive and open-minded and teachers to participate and improve their skills and modernize their teaching methods.
